Database Maintenance

Our DBA services provide all important database activities like space management, user management, segment management, backup & recovery, performance tuning, disaster planning, data movement etc. In addition to standard, day-to-day administrative and maintenance activities, production or critical development databases are continuously monitored to detect potential problems and addressing them before they can affect service delivery.

Data Migration

Whenever organization changes the computer systems or upgrades to new systems or when systems merge they may need data migration. We provide this service, so we perform this task programmatically to achieve automated data migration freeing up human resources from the tedious task. Through this process we map the data on the old systems to the new system providing a design for the data extraction, data cleaning and data loading and then finally data verification.

Application Management

By leveraging our vast experience in the application space, Roadmap can supplement your staff and even manage your entire set of applications. Our experience addresses virtually every type of application-from legacy mainframe systems to Web-based and custom applications.

Roadmap Application Management service helporganizations increase application efficiency, reduce system downtime, drive high-performance, and extend application life. We ensure that your enterprise has a reliable and available application system through proactive 24X7 monitoring and performance tuning.
